President Ussery is Re-elected.

The directors of the Blue Grass League met in this city yesterday with all the clubs of the league represented with the exception of Frankfort. Considerable discussion was indulged in as to the schedule of 1911 and it was finally determined to limit the playing season to one hundred games to Thursday, May 18 and close on Monday, September 4. By a unanimous vote and in the face of his protests, President Ussery was re-elected as President of the organization.

The session was held in the Elks building and convened at eleven o'clock. The meeting was called to order by President Ussery, who submitted a report of the season of 1910. The report was audited by a committee composed of J. Q. Stuart, of Winchester; T. A. Sheets, of Lexington, and James H. Fitzgerald of Maysville.

President Ussery in submitting his report reviewed the season of 1910 at length and pointed out what he considered the pitfalls that threatened the success of the league from both a financial and harmonious standpoint.

He told of the many difficulties under which he had labored and especially the unfavorable comment made upon his official actions. He defended himself against the charges of partiality, and announced that he was not a candidate for re-election.

Judge J. J. Greenleaf, President of the Richmond club, offered the following resolution which was unanimously carried:

"Resolved: The directors of the Blue Grass League of base ball clubs tender to President Ussery their thanks for his services and their confidence in his ability and fairness."

The auditing committee then brought in the following signed report. "We the committee have examined the financial report of President W. C. Ussery and have found it correct and records well kept."

The salary limit of each club, including that of the manager, be fixed at $1,000 per month. An amendment fixing the limit at $900 per month with the manager's salary included was voted down and the original motion was adopted 4 to 1.

A motion was adopted requiring the president, treasurer and secretary of each club within three days after the payment of salaries on the first and fifteenth of each month to send a sworn statement to the president of the league showing the amount of salaries paid club members.

The president empowered to institute an investigation of any violation of this rule upon the part of any club, and to see to it that every club in the league lived up to the requirement, and that if any club was found guilty of a violation of its terms a fine of $25 was to be imposed for each offense. A motion was also adopted limiting the number of players including the manager of each team to twelve men.

A motion was also carried that any club in the league at any time may suspend as many as two players for either illness or accidents for as many as fifteen days without pay.

A motion was offered to put every club upon an equitable basis by requiring any player on the team who might be a part owner of the club to sign a salary contract equal to not less than one-twelfth of the total amount voted for salaries. This was later amended to read $75 per month and was finally withdrawn, upon a statement by Mr. Yancey of the Lexington club that the minutes show that such player was not to receive a salary of less than $50 per month.

Mr. J. Q. Stuart of the Winchester club, then offered a motion placing in nomination the name of President W. C. Ussery for re-election. The latter attempted to interpose an objection when he was declared out of order and the vote being put by Mr. Stewart, carried unanimously.

A discussion ensued as to the authority of the president in such matters as the employing and dismissing of umpires, the enforcing of the rule regarding the salary limit, the refunding of expenses of the visiting team at holiday games where the receipts were pooled and other matters of importance to the league during the playing season which had to be acted upon immediately. Full power was given the president in all these matters.

At the meeting yesterday Lexington was represented by Hogan Yancey and T. A. Sheets, Winchester J. Q. Stewart, Richmond Judge J. J. Greenleaf, Maysville James W. Fitzgerald and Paris J. W. Bacon.

In another column will be found notice of the Ogden farm one mile South of Paris on the Bethlehem and Clintonville pikes owned by Mr. Chas. E. Butler, which will be offered at public auction on Wednesday, November 23, at ten o'clock a. m. on the premises. At the same time and place Mr. Butler will sell his stock, crop and farming implements.

Mr. Butler very reluctantly offers this fine old place for sale as he bought it with the intention of making a beautiful country home. Last summer Mr. Butler had a long and serious spell of sickness and has never fully recovered and upon the advice of his physicians is going to give up all active work.

After the sale Mr. Butler will go to Texas to sell a farm he has there and will then go to California for a long stay.

ONE YEAR, $2.00 | SIX MONTHS $1.00
..... PAYABLE IN ADVANCE.....Echo Aims Attack at Caleb Powers.

Under the heading "Our Skirts Clear," the Mountain Echo, published at London, Ky., and one of the most powerful and influential Republican papers in the Eleventh district, published a sensational editorial attacking Calbe Powers and protesting against him taking his seat in the Sixty-second Congress, on the ground that he has never been cleared of the charges of complicity in the assassination of Governor William Goebel. The Echo's editorial is as follows:

"Whatever may be said in the future of the Eleventh district; whatever of contumely and reproach may be heaped upon its fair name, the Echo's skirts are clear, and it alone of all the papers in the district can boast of the proud distinction of having made a fight for honor, for decency, for morality in social and political affairs, for prestige at home and abroad, during the past year. When Caleb Powers announced for office, the Echo took up the fight against him, and used the weapons which it thought best to awaken the people to the danger of sending this man to Congress. Without again traversing the ground, we may say that our admonitions were not heeded, and Powers was nominated by a great majority.

"Being a consistent supporter of Republican faith and principles, we at once placed his name at the head of the column as the Republican nominee. But our heart was not in the work of supporting Caleb Powers. So far as he knows, the editor of the Echo has never condoned the commission of a crime, and hopes he never shall. Being possessed of at least ordinary intelligence, and possessing a conscience, we could not follow the various trails of this man without feeling morally certain of his guilt. We believe that he was guilty of conspiracy in the feeblest, most damnable, most heinous, most diabolical crime that ever darkened Kentucky's history, and, therefore, if we understand the letter of the law, guilty of murder, and worthy to be executed for the commission of the dastardly crime.

"The evidences of guilt were too strong. Four trials were had, in three of which the juries were unanimous in their verdict of guilty. In the fourth trial ten voted yes as to the guilt of the accused, it is inconceivable to believe that forty-six men, no matter how partisan in their views, would violate their oaths to give the accused a fair and impartial trial according to the law and the evidence, and perjure themselves into eternity by rendering a verdict not in accord with the evidence. In all the State, we do not think they could be found who would do this horrible thing, and we do not believe that any one else can think that such would be the case. We have too much faith in the human race, and in the honor and integrity of Kentuckians to ever believe such a thing.

"The Echo, to its everlasting shame be it said, declared that Powers was greatly maligned and should be freed, while at the same time we believed that he was guilty. Our only excuse for doing this is that we were fighting for the party, and not for the criminal. It was a sad day for the party when Caleb Powers was placed upon the State ticket; it was a sad day for Senator Goebel, and it was a sad day for this beloved district, wherein reside the best people the world affords, and who do not deserve the reproach placed upon them.

"Caleb Powers has been elected to represent this proud district in Congress, but by a majority so small that it requires no stretch of the imagination to declare unequivocally that the most enlightened people in the district do not approve of the verdict at the polls on Tuesday. In a district normally Republican by 22,000, Powers has won by less than 9,000. Laurel county showed by her vote that her good citizens never will condone crime in any form. They are for citizenship above party, for good name above political prestige, for the preservation and sanctity of their homes and firesides regardless of party affiliation. By her action on Tuesday, her name will be emblazoned high on the scroll of fame in after years.

"We suppose Powers will go to Congress; and yet he should not. A man who has been three times convicted of a dastardly crime and never acquitted thereof, is not fit to represent the splendid citizenship of the mountains in any capacity. The little innocent children should not have this stigma placed upon them; they should not be made to look back when they have reached maturity and be made to blush for having such a representative. The young men, bright, intelligent and ambitious, should not have this milestone placed about their necks, to hold them back in the onward march to success in business and in social affairs of the community; the young and virtuous womanhood of the district should not be crushed by their s. ters in other sections of the State for living in a district represented by a man who had been thrice convicted of conspiracy in the murder of a fellow mortal.

"We do not know what action the new Congress will take in the matter of seating Powers. For the good of the district, for the good of the State, for the good of the nation, and the good of the splendid citizens who call the mountains their home, and who rightfully believe it to be the garden spot of the earth, we think, and hope, that this high minded body of lawmakers, when they assemble in Washington on March fourth next, will refuse to seat him. Then, and then only, will the awful stigma be removed from our homes and firesides. But whatever the ultimate action taken, the Echo's skirts are clear. We were not for Powers in the campaign preceding the primary, we were not too strongly for him in the campaign succeeding the primary, and we are not for him after the finale election. We speak feelingly in regard to this matter, the more so because we feel and are morally certain that we are right in the conclusions arrived at."

With the signal victory of the Democrats comes the announcement from Sagamore Hill that Theodore Roosevelt will be silent and take life easy for two weeks. A week has elapsed and yet the world revolves on its axis, the moon sheds the same silvery rays over the universe, the stars twinkle with the same light and the sun shines in all its brilliance, as it did before "the terrible" was plunged into his reticent mood. Possibly, ere the fortnight has passed, Teddy will come to the realization that he isn't the whole show after all.

Jake Noble, the mountain desperado, who took the life of Wesley Turner in Jackson last week, has about played his last card. He now has the blood of six men upon his hands. Hiding in the mountains he is being hunted like a beast. In event of his capture he will meet the strong arm of the law, the laxity of which has heretofore encouraged lawlessness in Breathitt county. Sentiment is said to be strong against Noble and the law loving people of the county are awakening to the importance of exterminating the murderous element.

Free Sample For Baby's Ills

Something can and must be done for the puny, crying baby, for the child that refuses to eat and is restless in its sleep. And since the basis of all health is the proper working of the digestive organs, look first to the condition of the stomach and bowels.

A child should have two full and free movements of the bowels a day. This emptying of the bowels is very important, as with it comes a clear head, a light heart of sleep, good appetite and sound sleep. But it is equally important to know what to give the child in the emergency of constipation and indigestion. Cathartics are too strong and salts and other purgatives are not only too strong, but the child refuses them because of their bad taste. Have you ever tried Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin? It is a liquid tonic that families have been using for a quarter of a century. It is mild, pleasant-tasting and promptly effective. It is good for you as well as the child, but there is nothing better to be found for children. They like its taste and you will not have to force them to take it.

First of all, if you have not yet used it, Dr. Caldwell would like to send you a sample bottle free of charge. In the way you can try it before buying. Later, when convinced of its merits, you can get it from your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, just as thousands of other families are doing. The family of Mr. D. W. Spangler of Stratonsville, Pa., as well as that of Mr. A. F. Johnson of Walnut Grove, Tenn., started with it in one family necessity next to food itself. If you are unfortunate enough to have a sickly child, one given to constipation and indigestion, you should send for a free sample of this remedy.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R. 500 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

Not Sisters

Now and again you see two women passing down the street who look like sisters. You are astonished to learn that they are mother and daughter, and you realize that a woman at forty or forty-five ought to be at her finest and fairest. Why isn't it so? The general health of woman is so intimately associated with the local health of the essentially feminine organs that there can be no red cheeks and round form where there is female weakness.

Women who have suffered from this trouble have found prompt relief and cure in the use of Dr.

Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives vigor and vitality to the organs of womanhood. It clears the complexion, brightens the eyes and reddens the cheeks.

No alcohol, or habit-forming drugs is contained in "Favorite Prescription." Any sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. Every letter is held as sacredly confidential, and answered in a plain envelope. Address: World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

NEW SOUP RECIPES

GIVING VARIETY TO FIRST
COURSE IN MENU.

Potatoes and Sorrel Added to Familiar Tomato Bisque—How to Use the Water in Which Fowl Has Been Boiled.

In the fall the housewife's fancy seriously turns to thoughts of soups.
With the first few whiffs of snappy autumn air the stock pot acquires an interest which it has lacked for at least three months, while the daily menu becomes longer by one hot,
wholesome course.

When reinstating soup to its proper dignity this year it would be an excellent housewifely study to vary it to a greater extent than in former seasons.

The average first course is extremely limited in point of variety, and good and tasty recipes are so numerous that it is a pity this should be the case.

While fresh tomatoes are still with us, try a variation of the familiar tomato bisque. Have the fruit weighing just a pound, and cook them in salted water, with either three or four white potatoes (peeled, of course)
according to size, and have a bunch of sorrel in the water. When soft, rub them through a sieve and heat again with some butter. Add the seasoning liked, boil up yet again, and serve with toast fingers.

Any poultry stock makes a good soup in capable hands. And by poultry stock is meant not the extracted juices of a whole fowl, but simply water in which the bird is boiled.

This is the method followed by one adept manager to use up the superfluous liquor when serving boiled fowl.
To a pint and a quarter of the latter add just a little celery, a mere sliver of onion, a saltspoonful of pepper corns, and a teaspoonful of salt to taste. When it has reached the boiling point, simmer it slowly half an hour, and afterward strain. Prepare the usual blend of flour and butter, gradually pour on to it the boiling liquid. Add one cupful of milk and season with salt and pepper.

If the yolk of one egg is slightly whipped, thinned with a tablespoonful of the soup, and added to the pottage proper it makes for additional richness. In such case it must be served immediately, or it will curdle.

Artichoke soup is less known than many other vegetable broths which are less choice. Following is a reliable recipe for it. In a tablespoonful of good butter fry a white turnip sliced thin, red onion ditto, three pounds of Jerusalem artichokes, washed, pared and sliced, and a thin slice of bacon. Stir these in the hot butter for ten minutes, and gradually add one pint of stock. Season to taste, strain and press vegetables through a sieve,
after which add two cups of boiling
milk, reheat and serve.

One of the many uses of a can of salmon is a soup easily whipped up on washday or to eke out a scanty luncheon menu some time.

Remove all bits of skin and bone
and mash the fish in a bowl to a paste.
Mix together two cups of veal broth
with the same quantity of sweet milk and bring to a boiling point. Cream together two tablespoonfuls of flour and one of butter, and with it thicken the stock, stirring smooth. Add the fish, boil up once more and serve.

The same rule can be used when there is a pound of fresh boiled salmon in the larder to be picked over,
and it is equally delicious with hall-
but.

Good and appetizing, too, especially noteworthy in a household where there are school-going appetites, is cream of sago. For it is the sago, after being thoroughly washed, is soaked three hours or more. A quart of white stock is put in the soup pot with a small onion, a bay leaf and a parsley spray and is slowly simmered for 30 minutes, after which the greens are removed. A pint of cream or milk is brought to a boil and is thickened in the usual way with blended butter and flour. This thickened milk is poured into the boiling stock, seasoned and the pottage is ready for immediate appreciation.

Olive Salad.

Mash two anchovies and add them to French dressing. Stone 24 olives and chop them rather fine. Cut one boiled beet into dice. Chop a small cucumber pickle. Line a salad bowl with lettuce-leaves, sprinkle over the gherkin, then the olives, then the beet and potato. Dust with salt, paprika and white pepper. Chop two hard-boiled eggs very fine and place them over the top. Sprinkle lightly with three tablespoonfuls of sherry
wine, pour over the French dressing, toss and serve.

Boiled Tripe.

Wash half a pound of tripe then boil up in water, drain, cool and cut into small pieces. Put these with one cupful of milk, one cupful of water, two sliced onions, season with pepper and salt, and let simmer for two hours. Mix one heaping tablespoonful of flour with a little cold milk; add to the tripe, stir until it boils, then let it simmer for another 30 minutes.

Cream of Squash.

Peel and boil squash until tender, add one onion, and a small amount of butter, to every cup of squash add one cup of milk, put in a small amount of butter, season with salt and pepper, serve hot.

NEWEST FANCY IN HATPINS

Fabric Heads in the Shape of Rosettes and Rosebud Wreaths
Are in Favor.

Fabric heads are the newest fancy in hatpins. The most fragile of these novelties are in the shape of rosettes and tiny rosebud wreaths of stiffened white net, and the most substantial are of Irish crochet representing either the shamrock or the full-blown rose. Also, of flower form are the hatpin tops of celluloid tinted in imitation of whatever exotic is represented, and there are some choice and expensive specimens of coral carved in dahlia and rose shape. Carded ivory pin tops represent all manner of odd shapes, as well as flat disks, balls and pears, and in the prism cut crystals of various shades are the well-known spikes, acorns and cubes.

Pin tops of filigree metal in square and circular form are set with coral rose balls, with pearls and amethysts, and many of sterling silver are brilliantly enameled with color.

Amethysts are a favorite setting for the colonial pin tops of burnished gold and form the center of the flower shapes which have petals of white stones.

Hatpins have so gradually increased in size and cost that they are now regarded as a portion of the jewelry and are as carefully looked after. The amethysts, garnets, rhinestones or pearls of a hatpin head are quite worth saving when the ornament itself, for one reason or another, is discarded. Not infrequently a girl will throw away a handsome top because its pin is bent or broken or several of the semi-precious stones of its setting have fallen out, owing to her failure to have her expensive hatpins examined as regularly as she does her rings. While the larger shops do not repair jewelry set with semi-precious stones, there are many minor dealers who will gladly renovate an elaborate hatpin, and for an amazingly small sum.

SEASON OF STYLE CHANGES

Radical Changes in Tailor-Made Suits
—Striped and Checked Materials
Are Very Popular.

Soutache braiding, mostly used on heavy materials, is now appearing on the fine materials, such as chiffon, mousseline, ninon, etc., the rose, blue and gray shades being, particularly lovely. Russian braid trims some of the dresses in ninon, the design being worked in military style.

Striped and checked materials are very popular just now, and they make very charming tailor-made suits.
The stripes or checks are either close or widely separated, and in some cases they are used in combination with plain material.

It will be a season of radical changes in tailor-made styles, from the fact that the skirts are all narrow, have one or two models of plaits from the waist, which are tightly strapped in about 12 inches from the bottom.

Early showing of fabrics for suits are mostly tweed and serge, in mixed colorings. Velvets will be extremely fashionable for winter wear, in dark colors, with a fine stripe of another hue.

These elaborate little boleros of embroidery transform a simple gown into ornateness. They look wonderfully smart, too, over a last season's dress, and they are particularly pretty over dresses of soft net.

PRETTY SILK WAIST

This very attractive waist is of silk draped in batiste fashion and ornamented with straps and buttons. It is trimmed in front with beautiful lace
and embroidery and a band of velvet.

The deep yoke is of plain tucked tulle. The short, loose sleeves are bordered with bands of lace.

Vegetables for Children.

The potato is easily digested.
But it must be in good condition,
and well boiled or baked, never fried.
New or waxy potatoes are injurious for children.

Carrot is nutritive, but must be exceedingly well boiled, and only young carrots used.

Almost all green vegetables are excellent, lettuce, spinach and the like.

The above applies only to children
above the baby stage.

Kenyon $15 Men's Suits
When you seek ECONOMY, ask your merchant to show you this $15 Suit.
Compare it with one that costs $25, and see wherein lies the difference. It does not lie in the wearing qualities, surely not in the style and fit. The great difference is one of price, caused by more than one reason—made in the largest factories of their kind in the world.

Trial Set for Wednesday.

Charles Smith, a negro, arrested in Lexington upon a telegram from Chief of Police Elgin to the Lexington Detective Department was brought to this city yesterday morning by Patrolman Fred Link. He was arraigned in Police Court and his trial set for Wednesday. Smith is charged with stealing thirty dollars from Lotta Williams, a negress of Paris, and is said to have served a term in the State penitentiary, being sent up from Garrard county.

Ocean Bound Finally Wins.

Woodford Clay's classy Star Shoot filly, Ocean Bound, finally won a race on the Kentucky tracks when she annexed the long end of the Criterion Stakes, the feature event on Thursday's programme. The filly has started in practically every good stake race since the latter part of September, but always either was outweighted or suffered bad racing luck, and was never able to win until Thursday. The Star Shoot filly got the verdict by but a head, and at the finish Milton B., which finished second, was going strong. Jack Atkin finished third, three lengths behind Milton B., after making all of the early running, with Mary Davis. The son of Sain was in front at the stretch turn, but in the run for home Ocean Bound and Milton B. moved up, and easily passed the Schreiber horse. Jack Atkins and Ocean Bound sold equal choices in the auction pools, and were about evenly played in the machines.

Good News.

The ladies will all be glad to know that Miss Holladay's home made candies are now on sale at Bruce Holladay's.

MATRIMONIAL.

The Lexington Leader says: "The marriage of Miss Dorothy Honaker to Mr. Fred Morgerson of Ford, Ky., which took place at the residence of Rev. I. J. Spencer Wednesday evening at five o'clock, came as an interesting surprise to their many friends. It is the result of a happy romance which began last Thanksgiving."

"The bride is an attractive and accomplished young woman, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Honaker of this city, and has many friends and admirers."

"Mr. Morgerson is a prosperous young farmer of near Winchester, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Morgerson."

"The bride looked lovely in a gray diagonal cloth tailored suit and picture hat and carried white roses."

"After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Morgerson left on the Q. & C. train for Cincinnati. After November 20 they will be at home at 111 Hagerman Court in this city."

The marriage of Miss Clara Lee Shy to Mr. Wm. C. Bell was celebrated yesterday afternoon at five o'clock at the residence of the bride's parents, on Henderson street, the Rev. J. O. A. Vaught of Millersburg, officiating.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Shy, is an attractive and popular young woman. The groom is a son of Mr. David Bell and is a young farmer who is very popular. The couple were the recipients of many beautiful presents. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Bell left for a bridal tour to Davenport, Okla., where they will remain a month, and returning will reside at "Ivy Cottage," the home of Mr. Bell on the Peacock pike, near Paris.

Excellent Home Sites.

Millersburg is one of the best college towns in the State. Every student is surrounded by environments of a high moral character. The town for that reason is one of the most desirable resident locations in the state. For miles around the country is unsurpassed for the fertility of its soil, the culture and intelligence of its people and natural advantages for agricultural and live stock pursuits. Home sites in Millersburg have heretofore been scarce but the sale of lots conducted by the Henry Realty Company of Paris, which will take place Thursday, will give everybody a chance to secure a nice home site or investment that in a few years will double in value.

Home-Made Goods.

Call at Bruce Holladay's on Thursday, November 17, and see his display of Miss Holladay's home-made pickles, preserves, marmalade, mince meat, plum pudding, etc.

For the Holiday Use.

During the holidays we are offering four-year-old Wigglesworth and Vanhook whiskey at $2.00 per gallon. This whiskey is 100 proof.

Preaches Funeral of Friend.

Elder Carey E. Morgan received Friday a telegram announcing the death at Peoria, Ill., of Mr. A. J. Elliott. Mr. Elliott was prominently associated as an official with a group of railroads in the Northwest. He will be remembered as having visited Paris several years ago and was one of the speakers of the men's banquets at the Christian Church parlor. Elder Morgan was asked to preach the funeral of Mr. Elliott and left Saturday morning for Peoria, returning yesterday.

Try a pound of that good candy that is on sale at Bruce Holladay's. It is the same kind that made the Misses Holladay famous last year as candy makers.

Noble Indicted for Willful Murder.

The special Breathitt county grand jury, called by Judge Redwine extra session to investigate the assassination of Jailer Wesley Turner, has returned an indictment charging willful murder against Jake Noble.

The grand jury also returned several indictments charging shooting in the limits of Jackson Tuesday night. An indictment was also found against A. S. Johnson, Wiley Combs and John Davidson charging confederating. They are charged with going armed to voters and election officers.

The vacancy in the jailer's office caused by the murder of Turner, is to be filled by appointment by County Judge Hagins.

Searching for Relatives.

Dr. B. M. Shive, pastor of the Presbyterian church is in receipt of the following letter directed to the pastor of the Paris Presbyterian church:

Dear Sir—The Rev. Eli Smith, Jr., was settled as pastor of a Presbyterian church at Frankfort, Ky., and after remaining there about ten years was installed over the church at Paris, Ky., in 1829. He died in Frankfort in 1839, leaving several children. If you can put me in communication with any of them or their descendants I shall be very grateful.

Very truly yours,

RARE CHANCE! Big Pay for Solicitors!

THE CINCINNATI WEEKLY ENQUIRER is offering Five Thousand Dollars in cash premiums to solicitors, in addition to a liberal commission that is more than ample to pay one's expenses, besides affording a living profit, while engaged in the work of soliciting subscriptions.

THE WEEKLY ENQUIRER is now a twenty-four page magazine-style paper, chuck full of reading matter most acceptable to any well-ordered home. Each issue contains a sermon by Pastor Russell, an essay by Dr. Madison C. Peters, a serial and short stories, natural history, general news and special record of political and national affairs that are of interest to all people, cut patterns for ladies and youths, and miscellaneous matter, all of high moral influence; also market reports from all commercial centers, and veterinary columns.

The editor's aim being to present the reader with an exceptionally good family journal of superior merit, free from all matters that antagonize morality, justice and truth. To circulate such a paper, all well-meaning persons can benefit their community and add their mite in the uplifting of civic and political thought and action.

Any person, lady or gentleman, with leisure hours, desirous of doing a good turn for the community, at the same time earning fair payment, should apply at once for particulars by writing to THE ENQUIRER, Cincinnati, O.

GERONIMO IN ACTION.

The Indian Chief's Story of How He Whipped the Mexicans.

About noon we began to hear them speaking my name with curses. In the afternoon the general came on the field, and the fighting became more furious. I gave orders to my warriors to try to kill all the Mexican officers. About 3 o'clock the general called all the officers together at the right side of the field. The place where they assembled was not very far from the main stream, and a little ditch ran out close to where the officers stood. Cautiously I crawled out this ditch, very close to where the council was being held.

The general was an old warrior. The wind was blowing in my direction, so that I could hear all he said, and I understood most of it. This is about what he told them: "Officers, yonder in those ditches are the red devil Geronimo and his hated band. This must be their last day. Ride on them from both sides of the ditches. Kill men, women and children. Take no prisoners; dead Indians are what we want. Do not spare your own men; exterminate his band at any cost. I will post the wounded to shoot all deserters. Go back to your companies and advance." Just as the command to go forward was given I took deliberate aim at the general, and he fell. In an instant the ground around me was riddled with bullets, but I was untouched. The Apaches had seen. From all along the ditches arose the fierce warcry of my people. The columns wavered an instant and then swept on. They did not retreat until our fire had destroyed the front ranks. After this their fighting was not so fierce, yet they continued to rally and advance until dark. They also continued to speak my name with threats and curses. That night before the firing had ceased a dozen Indians had crawled out of the ditches and set fire to the long prairie grass behind the Mexican troops. During the confusion that followed we escaped to the mountains.—From "Geronimo's Story of His Life," by S. M. Barrett.

CHAMPAGNE BARRELS.

Bismarck Demanded 5,000 From France, but Got Only Five.

Germany's governmental policy is to encourage the exports of brain, labor, sunshine, air and water. There is nothing in sugar, in alcohol, but carbon, gathered from the air, but hydrogen and oxygen gathered from the rainwater, transformed by the sun into beet plants, grown in fields, tilled and wielded by hand, the beet pulp being transformed by other hands and skilled knowledge into sugar and alcohol.

Denmark and Holland export butter, which takes nothing from the soil. The French import Asiatic silk, weave it at Lyons and export the finished product. They export wine by analysis 87 per cent water, 10 per cent alcohol and 0.04 per cent aroma and bouquet. Water and alcohol take nothing from the soil, but the aroma makes the wine worth from $10 a pound down.

In the peace negotiations between Bismarck and the French in 1871 it was not the money indemnity, it was not the loss of territory, that prolonged negotiations. Bismarck be thought himself to demand 5,000 empty old champagne barrels impregnated with the aroma, the bouquet producing ferment, and this the French refused. They had consented to pay $1,000,000,000; they broken heartedly gave up Alsace and Lorraine, but the bouquet of their priceless wines Bismarck should not have, and in the end they compromised on five barrels.

The French were instinctively governed by supernal common sense.—Harrington Emerson in Engineering.

Washington Irving.

To Washington Irving more than to any other writer belongs the high honor of being the "creator of American literature." Irving was not the first American to write good literature, but he was the first American to write in a way to catch and hold the European attention. It was through Irving's writings that the old world was made aware of the fact that there was an American literature. Hildreth, Prescott, Cooper, Poe and others of the pioneers came in for a full measure of praise, but Washington Irving will always hold his title as father of our literature.—New York American.

Hub of the Social Universe.

"We do not hesitate to call the Covent Garden Opera House 'the hub of the social universe,'" says the London Sphere. "We have been in the opera houses of Munich, Dresden, Milan, Berlin, Paris and Vienna, and there is nothing quite so impressive in any one of these as can be found at Covent Garden in the height of the season. To visit Covent Garden Opera House in the season is to know life at its most magnetic point."

At the Wrong Door.

"My health and digestion are perfect, doctor," began the caller in the office of the medical man. "I haven't an ache or a pain. The trouble with me is that I cannot sleep at night."
"Well, if that is the case, sir," said the learned physician, "I suggest that you consult your spiritual adviser rather than me."—Lippincott's.

Greatly Overrated.

"Mrs. Gaswell, while you were in Venice did you see the Bridge of Sighs?"
"Oh, yes; I saw what they called that; but, my land, I've seen bridges ten times its size without ever going out of Pennsylvania!"—Chicago Tribune.

Millions of feet of wire have been used for railroad signals for the Pennsylvania terminal and tunnel in New York.

Of a total of 88,000 silk nightgowns exported by Japan in 1909, Great Britain called for 44,931 and the United States 25,951.

Palestine is to be supplied with plenty of cheap electricity from the river Jordan. The water will also be used for irrigation purposes.

A revolution is pending in the Swiss watch industry. The handmade watch is passing, to make room for the article produced entirely by machinery.

Fireboats owned by several of the larger cities are now supplied with masts to elevate the discharge nozzles, on the same principle that water towers are used by land firemen.

The first export from New York was tobacco, and now, after about 300 years of the trade, an average of $20,700,000 worth has been shipped annually for the last five years.

Willie Buckmiller, three years old, in New York city fell out of a second story window and safely into a pillow case flapping on the clothesline. Add this to the list of remarkable escapes.

German statistics of industrial insurance show that disease seeks its victims chiefly in the more poorly paid classes of wage earners—the lower the wages the higher the number of victims.

Although Aberdeen is the home of Scotch granite, a shipment of 350 tons recently was exported to that city from South Carolina quarries to meet a demand for a variation in color from the native stone.

Within the last fifty years 500 tourists and guides have perished on Mont Blanc, and the body of every one has been brought down on its slow journey of forty years' duration with the glacier on its movement to the sea.

The German emperor took a holiday the past summer as usual, touring Norway. Among his companions on the trip were Hans Dahl, the painter; Professor Unger, the German sculptor; and Professor Stoecker, the marine painter.

While Edgar Pye of Sebasco, Me., was out fishing in a dory a swordfish rammed the boat, putting its sword through the bottom. Pye took hold of the sword and held on to it until help arrived and the fish was killed. The fish weighed 400 pounds.

The sardine industry gives employment in the Spanish port of Vigo to 23,000 people, of whom 8,000 are women. The wages of the men range from 80 cents to $1 per day and of the women from 25 to 35 cents. The value of preserved sardines exported last year was $2,203,500.

Because infected cornmeal is held responsible for pellagra, the Hungarian government has adopted strict regulations against the use of cornmeal under any other than its own name. The people of Hungary prefer rye bread, however, and are not partial to the use of cornmeal.

Recent raids on the gambling establishments at Ostend were inspired by King Albert's representations to the Belgian authorities, and these representations had their origin with his wife, Queen Elizabeth. The king and queen of the Belgians spent some time at that watering place this season.

To obtain data regarding ocean currents twelve copper globes were set adrift in the middle of the Atlantic from the Campana of the Cunard line. Each globe contained the offer of a reward to the finder if it should be returned, with a description of the manner, time and locality of discovery, to its owner.

Persia hasn't caught up with the times enough to provide herself with a real transportation system. Horses and donkeys still constitute the passenger and freight carrying resources of the empire which once dominated the east. Still Persia has one railroad. It is ten miles long and runs from Teheran, the capital, to the shrine of a defunct shah.

Miss Caroline E. Wenzell of Boston has the only school in the country in which the pupils are all street vendors. The object of the school is to teach these street merchants a more musical way of calling their wares. Instead of abolishing the cries of these men, as the members of the anti-noise society proposed, Miss Wenzell believes they should be turned into music.

CHOICE CULLINGS.

Flying Machines.

Flying machines of today are of two types—dirigible balloons and aeroplanes—both of them yet in the embryo stage. In the matter of dirigibles Germany is an easy first, France is second and the rest of the world is nowhere beyond possibilities of what Italy may produce. In heavier than air machines France is the unchallenged first. America, with equal ease, occupies the second place. Germany—on account of a single successful type—may perhaps call herself third for the moment, but all other nations except the first two at present constitute "the field." The test of a flying machine is the extent to which it is copied by others than its producer. To date, no one has for a moment dreamed of copying any aeroplane that England has produced, though there are many copies of leading French types.—Argonaut.

Tried It on Miss Schneider.

Miss Josefa Schneider, a Turkish subject, resident in Constantinople, has brought a suit for damages against the state which throws a vivid light on conditions in Turkey under Abdul Hamid II. According to the Paris Eclair one of Abdul's daughters fell seriously ill in the days when he was still padishah and the court physicians recommended an operation for appendicitis. Abdul refused to give his consent until the operation had been performed on some one else, to prove that it was not dangerous to life. Miss Schneider, who had recently spent some time in a Constantinople hospital, was handy, so she was forcibly taken from her house and deprived of her appendix. Abdul Hamid was convinced, his daughter was cured, and now Miss Schneider's suit is part of his successor's troubles.

Nansen and "Thirteen."

The "thirteen" superstition is not universal. Dr. Nansen can afford to laugh at it. The crew of the Fram on its memorable north pole expedition consisted of thirteen men, who, after an absence of three years, all returned to their homes in perfect health, despite the trials they had gone through. Then on Dec. 13, 1893, the doctor records the birth of a litter of pups. "There were thirteen—a curious coincidence—thirteen pups for thirteen men. Further, Dr. Nansen arrived at Vardo, in Norway, on Aug. 13, 1896, and on the self same day the Fram emerged from her long drift in the ice into the open sea.

Gold Soup.

Sheriff William Harrigan drifted into "Jake the Barber's" for lunch and surprised the husky German proprietor when he called for a plate of gold soup. "Don't know the meaning, sheriff," said Jake.

"Well, then, it's time for you to get out of the business, Jake," was the sheriff's response.

"Can't help it, sheriff; it ain't on my bill of fare."

"Come here, Jake, and I'll tell you. It's soup with fourteen carrots in it."—Newark Star.

Nerve Strain in Aviation.

Mr. Grahame-White, the foremost English bird man, in an interview thus describes the nerve strain of flying: "It is the tension of fearing that something unexpected may happen—that the engine may fail, that a stay may snap. Any one of these things may, one knows quite well, bring about a fearful fall. The rush of air and the fact that one is high above the ground have very little to do with the ordeal."

Wright's Little Pun.

Wilbur Wright was talking to a reporter about the London Mail's $50,000 aerial race from London to Manchester.

"It was shocking, though," said the reporter, "that Grahame-White, an Anglo-Saxon flying man, let himself be beaten by a Frenchman."

Mr. Wright smiled.
"Shocking?" he said. "It was more than that. It was a Paulhan"—Exchange.

It Was.

Boston's mayor attributes the deficiency of marriages in that city to the intellectual superiority of the girls, who overawe the marriageable young men. Culture has its disadvantages. A southern man once declared that making love to a Boston girl was like sitting on a cake of ice and cracking halstones with your teeth. That was probably an exaggeration.—Philadelphia Press.

Ireland's Decline.

Ireland at the end of last year had 890 fewer inhabitants than in 1908. The registrar general's report; just issued, shows that the population, 4,371,570, has fallen by 130,000 in ten years. Emigrants last year numbered 28,676, 5,379 more than in 1908 and 890 more than the excess of births over deaths.—London Mail.

A Provoking Question.

During the recent convocation of Knights of Templars in Chicago the hospitable and willingly helped residents of the Illinois city were a button inscribed, "Ask Me—I Live Here." Unfortunately, it is reported, the question most commonly provoked by this signal of kindness was, "Why?"—Argonaut.

NEW TALES THAT ARE TOLD

A Little Too Primitive.

August Belmont at a dinner in Saratoga praised the seaside towns of New England.

"But some of them," he added, "are a little too primitive. I remember a story about the primitive town of Rockford. Rockford had a rough bathing establishment with a shower bath. You stood in your bathhouse and pulled a rope and a deluge of cool water descended from the ceiling.

"Well, a lady visitor stood one day in her bathhouse, ready for the shower. She pulled the rope and braced herself, but no shower followed. She gave the rope another tug, when the gruff voice of the sailor proprietor of the establishment sounded from aloft.

"STAND A PINT MORE TO THE NORTHEAST, MUM."

"Stand a pint more to the northeast, mum," it said, "if ye want to get the full force."

"And the horrified lady, looking up, saw the old sailor frowning impatiently through a hole in the ceiling and titling a barrel of sea water for the shower."

A Sneering Inquiry.
Upton Sinclair, in an address in New York, said of social conditions:

"Social reformers, so called, tinkers and tinkers with social conditions, and meanwhile things go from bad to worse. These social reformers make me think of a Baltimore doctor.

"An aged Baltimore laboring man, much against his will, allowed his sick wife to be taken to the hospital, where, the doctor said, she would get better treatment and make quicker recovery than at home.

"Well, every day the old laborer visited the institution.

"Doctor, how's the wife? he would say.

"Oh, there's marked improvement," the doctor would answer, or, "The improvement is very conspicuous today," or, "I congratulate you on your wife's great improvement."

"But one day when the old man called the physician wasn't quite so confident.

"My poor friend," he said, "your wife died in the night."

"The husband, even in his great grief, couldn't forbear a sneer.

"Died in the night, eh? he said.

"What did she die of, doctor—improvements?"

PESSIMIST MATRON AND TRUSTING MAID

Elderly Lady Had Decided Views on Man's Frailty.

James C. Dahlgren, the mayor of Omaha, said the other day of a terrible graft scandal:

"These things destroy our faith in human nature. They give us the pessimistic outlook of the elderly lady in the jeweler's shop.

"A salesman in this shop was showing an ingenious electric clock to a young girl.

"You see, miss," he said, "by touching this lever you switch a bright light on to the face of the clock. It's a splendid device for telling—ha, ha, ha!—for telling the exact hour of your husband's return from the club."

"The young girl smiled.

"But I," she said, "haven't got any husband."

"Ah, but you will have some day," said the clerk.

"Yes," she agreed; then she nodded toward the clock. "But mine," she said, "won't be that kind."

"At this juncture the elderly woman interposed.

"My poor child," she said, "they're all that kind. I'll take the clock," she added to the salesman."

A Mark Twain Story.

Mark Twain always took a keen delight in scoring off pomposity. While dining in a restaurant one day he sat next table to a couple of airy young men who were giving the waiter an unusual amount of trouble. One of them gave an order and then in a commanding voice asked the waiter to tell the cook whom it was for; the other followed suit. Presently came Twain's chance, and he directed the waiter in a loud voice to "bring in a dozen oysters, and whisper my name to each of them to be sure it's all right."—Buffalo Commercial.

PRESERVING SELECT GRAPES

Great Care Must Be Used With Choice Fruit—Inferior Grade Good for Pickling.

For preserving select grapes of fine flavor wash them and free them from skins and seeds, lay the skins carefully aside for use later, and put the grapes into a preserving kettle. Cook them until the seeds become loosened from the pulp and press them through a sieve that will exclude the seeds. Then weigh the fruit, after adding the skins. For every pound allow a pound of sugar and let the whole simmer for half an hour or longer.

Inferior grapes that will not make a good preserve can often be advantageously used in a pickle. In fact, it is an extravagance to use grapes of fine flavor for pickling, as the spices and vinegar hide the flavor. But, of course, the grapes should be in good condition. Press the pulp from the skins, after washing and removing the stems. Put a little water into a porcelain lined kettle. Add the grapes and then let them cook slowly for half an hour on the back of the stove, where there is no danger of burning. Press the whole through a sieve that excludes the seeds. Add to every quart of grapes one pint of sugar, and half a pint of vinegar, with cloves and cinnamon to suit the taste. It is well to use only half as much cloves as you have of cinnamon, the former being so much stronger in flavor. Boil the whole till the skins are soft, when it will be ready to set away.

The LAUNDRY

Heavy Articles.—Make enough warm—not hot—soapsuds to cover what you want to wash. Take your washboard, lay part of the article flat on it, and scrub with your scrubbing brush until all is scrubbed. When all is clean, rinse in several clean waters. Do not wring, but lift out of water on to line. You will be more than pleased with this easy way.

To Wash Blankets.—All that is necessary is abundance of soft water and soap without resin in it. Resin hardens the fibers of wool and should never be used in washing any kind of finanel goods. Blankets treated as above will always come out soft and clean. A little bluing may be used in washing white blankets. They should be shaken and snapped until almost dry; it will require two persons to handle them. Woolen shawls and all woolen articles, especially men's wear, are much improved by being pressed with a hot iron under damp muslin.

Tomatoes au Gratin.

This is an appetizing recipe and offered at breakfast takes the place of meat. Select small, firm, ripe, and even sized tomatoes. Remove the stems, cut off the top of each, and scoop out the centers. Fry two or three shallots in a little hot butter, add half a cupful of chopped cooked tongue or ham, a few chopped mushrooms, and moisten with brown sauce. Add a high seasoning of salt and pepper and two tablespoonfuls or more of bread crumbs. Divide mixture into eight or ten tomatoes, sprinkle over the top of each a few bread crumbs, and grated cheese. Bake in a hot oven for ten or fifteen minutes until nicely done. Serve at once.

Coffee Cream Pie.

Heat one cup coffee and one cup milk in double boiler. Mix half a cup of sugar, seven level tablespoonfuls sifted pastry flour, quarter teaspoonful salt, little milk (reserved from the cup), and the yolks of two eggs. Add to hot coffee and cook till thick, stirring constantly, then add walnut of butter and let it cool (covered) while making frosting of whites of two eggs beaten stiff, then add one heaping tablespoon of confectioner's sugar. Put cream in baked shell, frost and brown lightly.

Plunkets.

Cream together a cup each of butter and sugar, and the well-beaten yolks of six eggs, then the stiffened whites. Sift together one-sixth teaspoonful of corn starch, four tablespoonfuls of flour and one teaspoonful of baking powder. Add this mixture gradually to the other ingredients, stir in a tablespoonful of vanilla and bake for 15 minutes in pate pans.

Cheese Fondue.

To one cupful of rolled cracker crumbs add a half a pint of milk, a small cupful of grated cheese, the beaten yolks of two eggs, and the whites beaten to a stiff froth. Mix gently and bake twenty minutes in a quick oven.

Iced Cocoa.

Mix one-half cup cocoa, three-fourths cup of sugar, and one cup of water and boil until it forms a thick slurr. Cool and pour into a jar or bottle and place on ice. Add one tablespoonful to each glass of cold milk for a service.

Paint on Wash Goods.

Soak the parts in kerosene and rub generously with a wool soap. Let stand for a few hours and paint will easily rub off when the garment is washed.

STEALING A HORSE.

A Bold Afghan Robber Who Had a Sense of Humor.

An East Indian officer, writing of life in Peshawar in the early seventies of the last century, relates the following:

The medical officer of my regiment was informed one night that a valuable and favorite Arab steed of his had been stolen. Over the border, gone forever, he never expected to see his horse again, but next day, much to his surprise, there came to him a bearded ruffian riding bare backed the stolen steed.

He confessed that he had taken the animal, but, learning that it was the property of a hakim (physician), had brought it back. The horse had been tethered in line with others, with men, women and children sleeping in the open about them.

"How did you manage it?" asked the doctor.

"If the sahib will give the necessary order," he said, "I will show him."

The entire scene was reproduced, even to the night watchman asleep in a corner. Noiselessly the Afghan crawled toward the Arab, treading snake-like through the prostrate forms to where it was standing at the end of the row. Softly hissing to attract the animal's attention without causing alarm, he gently raised himself with arm extended.

In his open palm were some lumps of goor (native sugar), beloved of horses, and while the Arab was enjoying these the man was caressing him with the other hand, whence suspended a watering bottle taken from his wallet. Quickly this was adjusted, and then, stroking soothingly, the robber passed his hand over the animal's back and down the hind quarters. Swiftly the heel ropes were unhitched, then the head gear released, and with a bound he was astride and away, his right hand backward flung, shouting triumphantly as he passed, "Thus was it done."

The joke was that he never came back! A double restitution would have been too much of a wrench.

A MAN'S WHISKERS.

They Should Not Be Renovated With the Shoebrush.

If men would devote as much loving care to their whiskers as women do to their hair they would contribute greatly to increasing the dignity of the sex.

A woman wouldn't think of coming downtown without having her hair properly arranged. She combs it, and fusses with it, and pads it out with rats, and puts wire cages under it, and runs ribbons through it, and she is a vision of loveliness when she appears in the busy haunts of men.

But a man gives his whiskers no attention further than to brush the eggshells or clam chowder out of them with the shoebrush. It never seems to occur to him that his whiskers might be made beautiful if he would devote one-half the time to them that a woman gives to her hair. He might easily have made a wire cage to attach to his chin, and then he could weave his whiskers around it in captivating styles and tie the ends together with a pink or blue ribbon.

The alfalfa editor gets tired of seeing the same old fashions in whiskers when it would be so easy to devise new and striking ways of wearing them.

There should be a whiskers club in Emporia. If such an organization were formed and the members held weekly meetings to exchange ideas and compare notes the results would soon be apparent. The town's whiskers would soon become distinctive, and their reputation would cover the country.

Let us have a new deal in spinach.—Emporia Gazette.

VELVO LAXATIVE LIVER SYRUP

After The Grippe

"I am much pleased, to be able to write and thank you for what Cardui has done for me," writes Mrs. Sarah J. Gilliland, of Siler City, N. C.

"Last February, I had the Grippe, which left me in bad shape. Before that, I had been bothered with female trouble, for ten years, and nothing seemed to cure it.

"At last, I began to take Cardui. I have taken only three bottles, but it has done me more good than all the doctors or than any other medicine I ever took."

Take CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

For the after-effects of any serious illness, like the Grip, Cardui is the best tonic you can use.

It builds strength, steadies the nerves, improves the appetite, regulates irregularities and helps bring back the natural glow of health.

Cardui is your best friend, if you only knew it.

Think of the thousands of ladies whom Cardui has helped! What could possibly prevent it from helping you?

Remember you cannot get the benefit of the Cardui ingredients in any other medicine, for they are not for sale in any drug store except in the Cardui bottle. Try Cardui.

The World-Renowned and Only Absolute Smoke Consuming Stove on Earth. The Wonder of the Age.

THE HOT BLAST
AIR-TIGHT

FLORENCE

PATENTED JUNE 13, 1899.

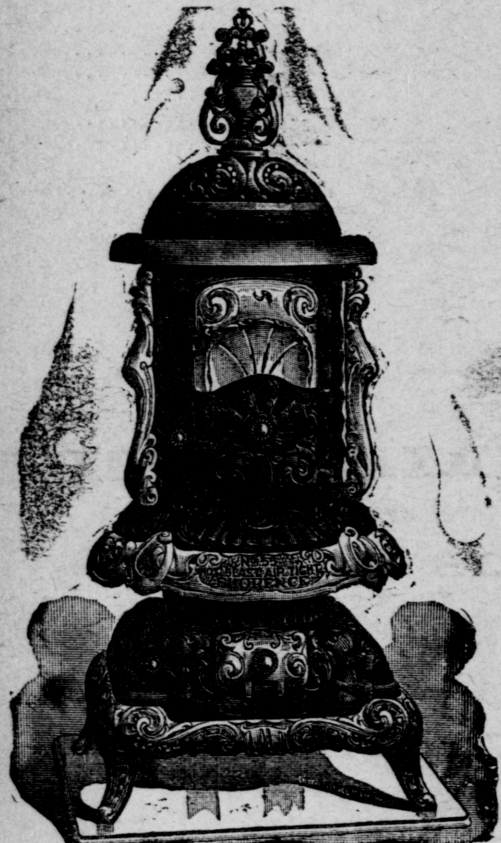

Patent Sustained by U. S. Circuit Court July 5, 1905. Patent Sustained by U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals March 6, 1906.

Beware of imitations and unscrupulous people who claim to have a stove like or just as good as the Florence. Do not be deceived by such false claims and find it out when too late. Examine the Florence carefully before you buy.

NO SMOKE! NO SOOT! NO DIRT! NO CLINKERS!
EVERYTHING IS CONSUMED.

At the end of a season's use with soft coal, there will be no soot in the pipe or flue.

THE ZENITH OF STOVE PERFECTION!

The only jointless leg bottom and base with full radiation and large ash pan that is on the market or has ever been made in the history of the stove industry.

The jointless leg bottom and base make the stove air tight below the grate, which is the only true fire keeping principle. It will be as good a fire keeper twenty years hence as it is today.

The Hot Blast Air-Tight Florence will heat twice the space that can be heated by any other stove on earth at half the cost.

The only perfect floor heater that has ever been made. All the features are patented, and no stove manufacturer, dealer or user can copy or use same for seventeen years from date of patent without incurring liability for an action for damages.

If the FLORENCE is operated according to directions:

The No. 21 will heat one small room all winter with 2 tons of slack or lump coal.

The No. 49 or No. 23 will heat 2 or 3 small rooms all winter with 2 1/2 tons of slack or lump coal.

The No. 51 or No. 25 will heat 3 or 4 small rooms all winter with 3 tons of slack or lump coal.

The No. 53 or No. 27 will heat 5 rooms all winter with 4 tons of slack or lump coal.

The No. 55 will heat a large store or school room with 6 tons of slack or lump coal. For a church less coal will be required.

Will burn a ton less coal than a hard coal base burner of the same size and heat twice the space.

THE HOT BLAST AIR-TIGHT FLORENCE burns soft coal or slack and all the smoke and gases. No filling up the stove, pipe or flue with soot. No dirt inside or outside the house. It will burn hard coal and all the gases which escape from the hard coal base burner. It will burn wood and sawdust, wet or dry. It will produce one-half less ashes than any other stove on earth with any kind of fuel and leave no clinkers or half-consumed fuel.

Shall Women Vote?

If they did, millions would vote Dr. King's New Life Pills the true remedy for women. For banishing dull, fagged feelings, backache or headache, constipation, dispelling colds, imparting appetite and toning up the system, they're unequalled. Easy, safe and sure. 25 cents at Oberdorfer's.

Slow Progress in China.

Even in Honan city, distant only two days by rail from Peking, lump silver, the same cumbersome currency that has been used for centuries, is still employed.

Aeroplane Note.

Proper Way to Seek Virtue.

One ought to seek out virtue for its own sake, without being influenced by fear or hope, or by any external influence. Moreover, that in that does happiness consist.—Diogenes Laertius.

Nothing Uglier.

Nothing is uglier in American life than the tendency to delight in tearing down reputations. We consider the old Romans brutal because they gazed with pleasure on wild beasts tearing men to pieces. The Cost of a Soul.

A recent query sent out as to the cost of saving a soul in Chicago brought some interesting answers. It was found that the Mormons figured on spending $1,500 for every person converted, whereas the Volunteers of America set the cost as low as $5. These were the highest and lowest prices named.

A Toast to Happiness.

Here's to happiness, the fountain of life, the builder of tissue; it never fails to dispel the blues; for it's the antidote to vapors of melancholia; it's the sun's rays piercing the cloud of darkness, the message of love of life, health and contentment; in its absence nothing can thrive; it's the soulmate, the symbol, of a clear conscience.

Will Promote Beauty.

Women desiring beauty get wonderful help from Bucklen's Arnica salve. It banishes pimples, skin eruptions, sores and boils. It makes the skin soft and velvety. It glorifies the face. Cures sore eyes, cold sores, cracked lips, chapped hands. Best for burns, scalds, fever sores, cuts, bruises and piles. 25 cents at Oberdorfer's.

Not All Alike.

It is absurd to assume things about other people, to think that all the world shares any emotion, any desire, dislike, or affection.

Not Sorry for Blunder.

"If my friends hadn't blundered in thinking I was a doomed victim of consumption, I might not be alive now," writes D. T. Sanders, of Harrodsburg, Ky. "but for years they saw every attempt to cure a nerve-racking cough fail. At last I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. The effect was wonderful. It soon stopped the cough and I am now in better health than I have had for years. This wonderful life-saver is an unrivaled remedy for coughs, colds, la-grippe, asthma, croup, hemorrhages, whooping cough or weak lungs. 50c. $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Oberdorfer's.

Infatuation.

How many men are groaning in spirit at this moment over an infatuation that made them sacrifice the whole worth of life for the sake of a pretty face and a plastic manner?

Saves an Iowa Man's Life.

The very grave seemed to yawn before Robert Madsen, of West Burlington, Iowa, when after seven weeks in the hospital, four of the best physicians gave him up. Then was shown the marvelous curative power of Electric Bitters. For eight months of frightful suffering from liver trouble and yellow jaundice, getting no help from other remedies or doctors, five bottles of this matchless remedy completely cured him. Its positively guaranteed for stomach, liver or kidney troubles and never disappoints. Only 50 cents at Oberdorfer's.

For Long and Useful Life.

If thou desire to take the best advantage of thyself, keep temperate diet, use moderate exercise, observe reasonable and set hours for rest.—F. Quarles.

Dandruff and Itching Scalp Yield to This Remedy.

Why experiment trying to drive the dandruff germ from beneath the skin with greasy lotions or fancy hair-dressing when druggists everywhere and in Paris W. T. Brooks' drug store will guarantee ZEMO and ZEMO Soap to entirely rid the scalp of the germ life that causes the trouble. ZEMO and ZEMO SOAP can be obtained in any city or town in America and are recognized the best and most economical treatment for all affections of the skin or scalp whether on infant or grown person. One shampoo with ZEMO SOAP and application of ZEMO will stop itching and cleans the scalp of dandruff and scurf. Application of ZEMO and use of ZEMO soap will cure the most obstinate case of eczema or skin disease.

We invite you to try ZEMO and ZEMO SOAP and if not entirely satisfied we will refund your money.

MENTAL DISCORD.

An Uncompromising Enemy to Happiness and to Health.

It is a law that every state of mind, whether good or bad, affects every cell in the system and is outpictured in the body, says Orison Swett Marden in Success Magazine. We are thus the arbiters of our fate through our thoughts, emotions and passions.

The time will come when we shall know how to refresh ourselves by mental chemistry—that is, by holding in our minds the antidotes of the things that have wearied us or vexed us, by holding the mental attitude which will neutralize the thought enemies that have thrown our bodies into confusion.

There is nothing so deadly to happiness as mental discord. It paralyzes the thinking ability and destroys the power of concentration and effectiveness.

All diseases and sickness of whatever kind are the outpicturing of some form of discord. If the mind is kept as happy as possible it is difficult for discord to get a foothold in the body. A happy mind is the best possible health producer, disease killer and discord destroyer.

For centuries man's happiness was looked upon by many earnest, thinking people as a condition largely beyond his control. They seemed to think that it depended mostly upon the temperament one happened to develop and that there were other things of so much more importance that we should not consider it too seriously or take precious time to cultivate it directly.

We are beginning to find, however, that even as an economical investment it pays immensely to make a business of being happy and being just as good to ourselves as possible, although not in a selfish way. We could not be good to ourselves in the higher sense by being selfish.

POET OF MANY VERSES.

An Anecdote of Pellegrin, an Eighteenth Century Bard.

The impecunious French poets of the middle eighteenth century used to consort at the cafes, where sometimes they would pick up customers. One of the worst and at the same time the most facile of the bards was Pellegrin, of whom a characteristic story is told in "An Eighteenth Century Marquise." One day a newcomer entered the cafe and began complaining that he was going to be married and had no epithalamium for his wedding. Pellegrin hastened to offer one of his own compositions. A deal was soon arranged, and the price agreed upon was 20 sous a verse. The poet disappeared. The bridegroom was presently accosted by a stranger, who began a conversation on various subjects and suddenly said:

"By the by, my friend, what price are you paying Pellegrin?"

"Twenty sous a verse."

"H'm."

"Is that too dear?"

"No"—doubtfully—"not if you fixed the length of the poem."

"I never thought of doing that."

"When is he to bring your epithalamium?"

"Tomorrow morning."

"Tomorrow morning!" cried the stranger. "Why, you must be rolling in money!"

"What do you mean?"

"That you will have to pay for at least a thousand verses."

"Oh, what a fraud!" exclaimed the bridegroom and rushed off to find Pellegrin in his attic. The versifier had just completed his hundredth verse.

A Sartorial Freak.

Food is "chow" in the east, meals are "tiffin," and an I. O. U. is a "chit." China and India making these additions to dietetic nomenclature.

The most shocking sartorial thing visible in the east is the dinner jacket of white duck affected by the British and, alas, by some expatriated Americans. It is cut very short, barely reaching the suspender buttons, and flares widely in front. High collar and black tie complete the abominable combination. Yet no Briton can eat his evening meal without being thus garbed. White duck "pants," of course, cover the unmentionables. The white suits of Mark Twain and Frank Vanderlip which once excited New York are outdone and quite as a matter of course.—New York World.

Barrett Wendell's Pun.

When Professor Wendell of Harvard entered upon his Sabbatical year he remained in Cambridge some weeks after his leave of absence began and persisted in taking part in the departmental meeting. The head of the department protested.

"Sir," said he, "you are officially absent. You are non est."

"Oh, very well," replied Professor Wendell; "a non est man is the noblest work of God."—Success Magazine.

A Matter of Choice.

An old doury servant devoted to General Jackson waited on him in the general's last hours. Right after the general's death a preacher asked Rastus if he thought Jackson would go to heaven.

"I doan' know, boss, ef 'e'll go foah sure, but he can ef he wants to," replied the doury.—Independent.

Large Stock Barn Burned.

A large stock barn on the farm of Wm. Hall, two miles from Paris on the Lexington pike, was destroyed by fire about eleven o'clock yesterday morning. The origin of the fire is unknown. The barn contained several tons of hay and other feed which were consumed. All the stock in the barn was gotten out by farm hands who were near the scene when the fire was discovered. Owing to the high wind the residence occupied by Mr. Hall, a short distance from the barn, was for a time threatened with destruction.
Mr. Hall estimates his loss at about $2,500 which is partially covered by insurance.

the South with its exquisite furnishings of antique mahogany, brass and chrysal vases and candelabra to which was added dozens of graceful and fragrant Easter lillies and chrysanthemums to complete a scene of perfect beauty. The beautiful round mahogany table in the dining room had for a centerpiece a silver pitcher filled with valley lillies and narcissus.
Surrounding this were tall silver candelsticks with lighted tapers.

The guests were received by Mrs.
Wallace and Mrs. Brent, assisted by Mrs. Paul Justice, Mrs. Fannie Wil-

—Mr. and Mrs. William Clyde Ferguson gave a beautiful dinner party Wednesday evening at their home on the Georgetown pike, in compliment to their brother and his bride, Mr. and Mrs. Major Barak Smith. The sunny shades of yellow and white were used as the party colors. The dining table held a large mirror as the centerpiece,

on which was placed a silver candelabra holding yellow lighted tapers hooded in the same hue, and throwing a soft light over the scene. The reflector was surrounded with immense chrysanthemums and plumosa, with smilax and individual candlesticks adding to their appearance on the table.
Attached to the place cards were white satin bags, tied with yellow ribbon, which were filled with rice, the contents being thrown upon the bride and groom after the bride, in a most charming manner responded to a toast, proposed by Miss Martha Ferguson.

Quite a unique feature of the dinner was the setting down of "Matrimonial Laws" by Mrs. James Ferguson, all of the guests signing the "pledge".

Always the Twenty-ninth.
Old Clerk (proposing toast at little supper given by master on his daughter's birthday)—Gentlemen, we enjoy this evening the felicity of celebrating, as we do every year, thanks to his generosity, the twenty-ninth birthday of the respected and always amiable daughter of our worthy employer. I give you, gentlemen, her health and happiness.—Scraps.

Montana City Holds Record.
Miles City, Montana, holds the record for variation in temperature. The highest temperature recorded there is 111 deg., which is within 8 deg. of the highest recorded in the United States. Miles City's lowest mark has been 67 deg. below zero, which is truly arctic. The range between these two extremes is 178 deg., which is a record.

Blue Grass Horses for Army.

The Kentucky thoroughbred horse is shortly to be introduced into the cavalry service in the United States Army. After looking over the needs of this department of the national war machine the heads of the army have come to the conclusion that the fleet footed animals will make an adjunct to the department that will in time be absolutely indispensable.

With the idea of securing young horses that may be suitable for "re-mount depots" and more especially for the use of the mounted service schools, Captain Casper H. Conrad, Jr. has been ordered to attend the annual fall sale of the Fasig-Tipton Company in Lexington which begins the latter part of November.

The result of the introduction of the Kentucky thoroughbred into army use will be watched with interest by breeders all over the Blue Grass who have argued for years that this type of horse was better suited to army usages than any other horse.

The Right Move.

Kentucky may yet be freed from the stain that threatens her fair name, for Caleb Powers, elected to Congress from the Eleventh Congressional district, may be denied the privilege of taking his seat as a member of that august body.

Powers' election has become a matter of deep concern among the nine Democratic Representatives from Kentucky. When March 4 rolls around the mountain "martyr" may face great difficulties and will perhaps fail to realize "the ambition of his life." It is the purpose of the Democrats, so it is said to have him ousted from his seat.

Now what could be better than concerted action along this line? Nine Representatives elected by the people forced to be seated as a delegation with a man who has never been freed by the courts for complicity in a crime as foul as any ever perpetrated. Can they be blamed for this objection? Powers was given his liberty through a pardon issued by a partisan Republican Governor, after he had been convicted in the courts at three trials, and when arrested as an accessory in the Goebel murder carried in his pocket a pardon issued by William Sylvester Taylor. In the eyes of the law and in the minds of the decent, law-loving people he has never been vindicated. His pardon gave him his liberty, but it failed to clear his skirts of complicity in a black conspiracy to do murder, although his following in the Eleventh and narrow-minded Republicans in other parts of the State considered his victory over Edwards for the nomination and his success over Judge Bertram in the regular election a vindication in the extreme.

The pride of Kentucky is hurt. She may bear her sorrow, but it will not be without some effort on the part of her truest sons to throw aside this vile personage who will stalk to the nation's capital covered with the glory gleaned through crime and sympathy, to fill his chair in the House. Congress has the right to remove him as it is the sole judge of its members. His record should be enough to satisfy the National House, that he is entirely out of place and eject him without ceremony.

Two Kentuckians for House Clerk.

A news dispatch from Chicago says former Congressman South Trimble of Frankfort, Ky., assistant secretary of the Democratic Congressional Committee, is tipped for Chief Clerk National House of Representatives, according to political dopesters at headquarters in that city. The chief clerkship is the highest honor the party has to bestow.

Friends of Trimble have already started a campaign for him. He served six years in Congress and was Speaker of the Kentucky House of Representatives at the time of the Goebel killing.

Former Congressman William Preston Kimball of Lexington, is also mentioned in connection with the House chief clerkship. He was the minority nominee for the place at the last session.

QUITE EVIDENT.

Novel Tool Chest.

For use in manual training schools a Wisconsin man has patented a tool chest which may be converted into a work bench by clamping it to the top of two desks.

English Women in Majority.

John Bull has more daughters than sons in England and Wales by 1,225,055.

Peculiar Rose in English Garden.

Mr. William Tweddle of Stanhope, England, has growing in his garden a novelty in the shape of a heliotrope moss rose. Gardeners declare that they have never before seen or heard of a moss rose of that color. The bush, which stands four feet high, contains about a dozen buds, besides two or three roses in full bloom.

Cantrill for Clark.

The next Speaker of the House of Representatives will be a Democrat. Champ Clark, of Missouri, is most prominently mentioned for the Speakership and he is making inquiry among the newly elected Congressmen with a view of ascertaining how he stands in the race. In reply to an inquiry received from Representative Clark, Hon. J. Campbell Cantrill, Representative from the Seventh Kentucky District has pledged him his support. In his first speech before the House of Representatives Mr. Cantrill nominated Congressman Clark as the successor to Speaker Cannon and is still strong in his support of the Missourian. The action of Mr. Cantrill in pledging Clark his help so readily is to be greatly commended and it is safe to say he will be found fighting to the last ditch for the grand old man.

HUMOR OF THE DAY

What Is Happiness?

The Baby—No pins.
The Kindergarten Girl—One birthday party per day.
The Kindergarten Boy—Bathing suit, beach, pail, shovel, nice shallow ocean.
The Little Bigger Girl—Chocolates, whippers, giggles, dancing school.
The Knickerbocker Boy—Dog, chum, "five feet" of adventure books.
The Extended Tuck Maiden—Boarding school clique.
The Long Trousers Boy—Pompador, tan, canoe.
The College Girl—Chafing dish, "English," manlike ways, minus the man.
The College Boy—Six clubs, varsity "X," no apparent study, high marks and never the insult "greasy grind."
The Society Girl—Always Europe.
The Young Business Man—Some Wall street, more evening dress.
The Young Matron—Tea.
The Young Husband—Receipted bills.
The Thoroughly Married Woman—Furniture.
Her Settled Partner—Cigars.
The Middle Aged Woman—President of the federation of, etc.
The Middle Aged Man—Golf and a new house.
The Woman (later on)—Visiting them.
The Oldish Man—Telling how it happened.—Judge.

A Sad Case.

"I hear that Burke and his wife have decided to separate."
"Yes; it is a very sad case. I'm afraid the breach is irreparable."
"You don't say?"
"Yes. You see, it was this way: The other day when Mrs. Burke entertained the members of the Ibsen club Burke insisted upon showing madam the president through the family library, which contains fifteen volumes and a compendium of all useful information."—Chicago Record-Herald.

When He Weakened.

Atlas suddenly began to show signs of weariness.
"I have just learned," he said, shifting the burden to the other shoulder, "that this globe I am holding up weighs 7,000,000,000,000 tons."
Thus we see, despite the old maxim, that knowledge is not always power.—Chicago Tribune.

Evidences.

"Do you Americans really appreciate the beauties of nature?" asked the foreigner.
"Sure we do!" replied the patriotic citizen. "Can't you see evidences of our appreciation in the sardine cans and pickle jars that picnic parties scatter over every good piece of scenery?"—Washington Star.

A Forbidden Art.

"I see where science has arrayed itself against a great criminal modern evil."
"What is that?"
"Kidnaping."
"How so?"
"It forbids rocking the baby."—Baltimore American.

Too Adept.

"The next event," said the announcer at the county fair, "will be a sack race for girls, professionals barred."
"What do you mean by professionals?"
"Those who have been wearing hobble skirts."—Kansas City Journal.

Can't Please 'Em.

"You can't please a woman anyhow."
"What's the matter now?"
"I wiped the dishes for my wife last night, and she kicked because I didn't hang up the towel afterward."—Detroit Free Press.

Not Asleep.

Teacher (to new pupil)—Why did Hannibal cross the Alps, my little man?
My Little Man—For the same reason as the 'en crossed the road. Yer don't catch me with no puzzles.—Sydney Bulletin.

Comforting.

"Every time the automobile breaks down I notice you examine your state license."
"I do that for encouragement. The license says I'm competent to operate the machine."—Houston Chronicle.

No Sense.

"Jones is ultra modern. I suppose he got divorced and lived happily ever after?"
"No. He would have lived that way, but the darn fool is getting married again!"—Cleveland Leader.

Public Sentiment.

"Do you pay much attention to public sentiment?"
"No; I always look the other way when I see a young couple holding hands in the park."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Hotel Room Card.

One Ring—Ten cents to the bellboy.
Two Rings—Fifteen cents to the chambermaid.
Three Rings—A quarter to the porter.—Somerville Journal.

Soon.

"How old is the Browns' youngest child?"
"It can't be more than a year old. It's just learning to fly."—Life.

The Old Love.

Cigar—Why do you look so lovingly at that old match on the floor?
Cigarette—It was an old flame of mine.—Lippincott's.

HUMOR OF THE DAY

Took Him at His Word.

The old couple were eating their first meal with their son after his return from college.
"Tell us, John," said the father, "what have you learned at college?"
"Oh, lots of things," said the son as he recited his course of studies.
"Then," he concluded, "I also studied logic."
"Logic," said the old man. "What is that, my boy?"
"Well," replied the young fellow, "let me give you a demonstration. How many chickens are on that dish, father?"
"Two," said the father.
"Well," said John, "I can prove that there are three." Then he stuck his fork in one and said, "That is one, isn't it?"
"Yes," said the father.
"And this is two?" sticking his fork in the second.
"Yes," replied the father again.
"Well, don't one and two make three?" said John triumphantly.
"Well, I declare!" exclaimed the father. "You have learned things at college. Mother," continued the old man to his wife, "I will give you one of the chickens to eat, I'll take the other, and John can have the third."—Tit-Bits.

The Retort Courteous.

"Now," said the suffragette orator, sweeping the audience with her eagle eye, "I see Mr. Dobbs sitting down there in the third row—a man who has condescended to come here tonight and listen to our arguments. He has heard what I have had to say, and I think we should like to hear from him and get a man's view of our cause. Mr. Dobbs, tell us what you think of the suffragettes."
"Oh, I c-c-couldn't, m-m-ma'am," stammered Dobbs, "I r-r-really c-could not. Th-there are l-l-ladies p-p-present."—Harper's Weekly.

Always Good.

Speaking of Jack London—or was it Rex Beach?—they tell that when in his salad days he submitted a story to a great editor the things came back. So London—or was it Beach?—called upon the great editor and asked:
"What's the matter with this yarn? Don't you like it?"
"Yes," replied the great editor impressively, "I always did."—Success Magazine.

Auto Suggestion.

The chauffeur, who had been in an automobile smash, had just recovered from the anesthetic.
"You're all right now, old chap," cheerfully said the surgeon, "just as good as new."
"Perhaps," smiled the patient weakly, "but I feel factory rebuilt."—Illustrated Sunday Magazine.

Awkward For Both.

"This is awkward. I flirted with a young man at the seashore and we both pretended to be rich. Now I find he lives in our city."
"But you needn't see him if you don't want to."
"I can't well get out of it. It seems he collects the payments on our piano."—Pittsburg Post.

Sounds Like It.

Could it be that the prophet Isaiah had in his forecast the hurried traveler at the railroad eating station of our day when he wrote, "And he shall snatch on the right hand and be hungry, and he shall eat on the left hand and shall not be satisfied?"—Brownings Magazine.

Wouldn't Do.

"Sorry, sir; we're quite out of poultry this morning, but we have some nice pork sausages."
"Tut, tut, man! I can't very well tell the wife that I shot sausages!"—Cassell's Saturday Magazine.

Different Now.

Moneybags—Young man, I started as clerk on 15 shillings a week and today own my own business.
Hard Up—I know, sir. But they have cash registers in all the shops now.—St. Louis Star.

Run Down.

Muggins—Subbubs says his wife is very much run down.
Buggins—I'm not surprised. You know how those women talk about each other out there.—Philadelphia Record.

She Wasn't.

Mrs. Knicker—Are you familiar with the Norwegian sagas?
Mrs. Newrich—Not the least bit; I always make the servants know their place.—Harper's Bazar.

A Considerate Child.

"Do you believe in fairies, little girl?"
"No, but I pretend to just to please mamma. She thinks I do, and why rob her of her harmless delusions?"—Washington Herald.

Brute.

"He writes poetry for the love of the thing."
"Indeed! And what's the thing's name?"—Spokane Spokesman-Review.

Sure Sign.

Indian—Did he miss again?
Guide—Of course he did. Didn't you hear him shoot?—Spare Moments.

Mutual Exchange.

She—I like your impudence!
He—I like your cheek!—Life.

MILLERSBURG ITEMS.

—The little surprise club met with Miss Ethel Collins Saturday night.

—The town is building a large fire cistern on Fifth street and Trigg avenue.

—Mrs. J. T. Jefferson was visiting Mrs. Harry Booth in Paris Thursday and Friday.

—Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Clary of Shannon, arrived Friday as guests of relatives here.

—Mr. Thomas McClintock purchased eleven head of mules in Bath county last week at good prices.

—Mrs. C. C. Chanslor has returned from a week's visit to her sister, Mrs. Jerry Cole, at Blue Licks.

—Miss Lavina Reynolds was the guest of Miss Amer, of Cynthiana, from Saturday until Monday.

—Misses Margaret Stannard and Kessie May McDaniel spent Saturday with Mrs. H. P. Hutchcraft in Paris.

—Mr. Oan Mahaney, of Paris, was the guest of his aunt, Mrs. Russell Mitchell, from Thursday until Monday.

—Mrs. C. W. Howard and son, Mr. Thomas Howard, spent from Saturday till Monday with her sisters, the Misses McIntyre.

—Mrs. Aaron McConnell and guest, Miss Nannie Gill, the latter of Mayeville, and Mr. R. M. Caldwell were guests Friday of Mrs. W. M. Walker in Lexington.

—Mr. Ellis Baldwin and Miss Ethel Collins, Mr. W. H. Burroughs and Miss Ruth Ardery attended the oyster supper given by the Christian church at Indian Creek Friday night.

—Mr. James Huttsell of Mt. Sterling, arrived Saturday as the guest of his aunt, Mrs. M. E. Martin, leaving Sunday, accompanied by her for the home of his sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Powling, in Carlisle. Mrs. Martin will return Wednesday.

—Our town and community was visited with two small fires during the past week. On Friday, a small house occupied by Bettie Snodgrass, colored, on Miller street, was slightly damaged by fire, originating in the roof, but was quickly put out by the volunteer fire department. On the same afternoon a small house on the farm of Mr. Chas. Martin, occupied by John Tum-y and family, caught fire from a defective flue, and was quickly extinguished. On Saturday afternoon the house again caught fire, originating from the same flue, but this time it was so far under headway that it could not be controlled, and but little of the household goods were saved. It was a complete loss with no insurance.

—Mr. Jimmie Day of Paris, visited friends here Sunday.

—Mr. Rainey Cameron of Cincinnati, was the guest of friends here Sunday.

—Miss Bessie Purnell, of Paris, was the guest of Mrs. E. T. Beeding from Friday till Monday.

—Mr. and Mrs. David Wells and little daughter, of Mt. Olivet, were guests of his brother, Mr. M. P. Wells and family Saturday and Sunday.

—Mrs. Thomas McClintock and guests, Mr. and Mrs. Joshua McClintock, the latter of Kansas City, Mo., were guests of relatives at Carlisle from Saturday till Monday.

—The protracted meeting at the Methodist church, which is being conducted by Rev. Harris, is growing in interest. Rev. Harris is a splendid singer and a good evangelist. The attendance on Sunday morning and evening was large.

—The hunting season is now on, the crack of the gun can be heard everywhere. Hunters were passing through here all day Monday enroute to Nicholas, Robinson and Bracken counties. Among those in Robinson county from here are Messrs. E. P. Taylor and J. P. Redmon.

—Elder W. A. Gardner returned Thursday night after an absence of five months in the interest of State-wide prohibition in Iowa and South Dakota, coming directly from the bedside of his son, Herbert Gardner, at Shelby, Ohio, who is critically ill with tuberculosis, with no hopes entertained of his recovery. Elder Gardner and family hope to move to his new charge in Kansas as soon as possible, which largely depends on the condition of their son.

—Saturday afternoon about 5:30 while the inmates of the M. F. C. were breaking fast and merriment, when pleasure seemed to be written upon every countenance of both students and faculty, President C. C. Fisher was summoned to the telephone, returning in a few moments with a telegram for Miss Margaret Earnest, saying that her father, while out hunting, had been accidentally killed. The Earnest family reside at Johnson City, Tenn., and are among the most popular people. Mr. Tate L. Earnest, father of the young lady, was cashier of the Unaka Bank. Miss Earnest is one of the most popular students of the M. F. C., and is beloved by all in that beautiful home. This came as a dreadful blow to her and as she wept the entire school wept with her. She left for Paris about 8:15 the same evening accompanied by Prof. C. C. Fisher, taking the 9:30 train at Paris for the grief stricken home.

—Miss Nannie Gill returned to her home at Maysville today after a ten days' visit to Mrs. Ellen McConnell.

—Mrs. Chas. Leer left Monday for a two weeks' sojourn at Martinsville, Ind., to be treated for rheumatism.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Shy attended the Shy-Bell wedding at Paris yesterday. Mr. Shy is a brother of the bride.

—Joe Green, colored, who was one of the losers in the recent fire here is the first to begin to rebuild. The work began last week.

—The lots to be sold Thursday in Millersburg is a plot of ground that belonged to the Clarke heirs and adjoins the city limits on the North. Streets and alleys have been laid off and shade trees planted. Every lot will face on a nice avenue extending back to a wide alley.

—At the protracted meeting at the Methodist church there were five confessions Saturday night. About fifty asked for the prayers of the church at the Sunday evening service. The services Sunday afternoon by Rev. Harris to the children were well attended. There will be another service for them this afternoon. Services every day this week at 3 and 7 p. m.

—Little Miss Josephine Leer entertained Saturday afternoon from two to four, it being her fifth birthday. The home was darkened and softly illuminated with wax tapers in candle-labra. The color scheme was pink and white, and was nicely carried out. Ices and cakes were served, each of the guests carrying away a souvenir. Among the out-of-town guests was little Miss Carter, of Paris.

—The wife of the colored preacher of the Christian church while getting off of the train here, fell to the ground with a baby in her arms spraining one of her ankles, the child receiving slight injuries. It is claimed that the train had started before she was ready to get off and had stopped, but before she could alight with two children and packages, it had been ordered to move again.

—Mrs. Elizabeth Dodson is critically ill and has been unconscious since Sunday.

Delightful Entertainment.

A delightful entertainment was rendered Friday evening at the auditorium of the public school building by a number of children from the K. of P. Widows and Orphans Home in Lexington. The children were accompanied by Superintendent Lowry and Mrs. Lowry, Mr. Vance and Mr. J. W. Carter Grand Keeper of Records and Seal. Three hundred people witnessed the entertainment. The following program was rendered:

Chorus—"Our Dear Old Pythian Home;" quartette—Misses Berkeley, Perkins, Holt and Lowry; recitation—"Ragged Man"—Daniel Midkiff; solo by James Stewart; solo by Mr. Vance; duet by Misses Berkeley and Perkins; solo by Miss Irene Berkeley; recitation—"Home to Our Mountains"—Mr. Vance; duet by Misses Berkeley and Perkins.

Mr. Carter delivered an interesting address, after which the exercises closed with a rendition by the quartette of "Thou Art My Own Love."

Buggies at Low Prices.

For the next thirty days we will sell any buggy in our house at ten per cent off for cash. Come and look them over.

YERKES & KENNEY.

DEATHS.

—Mr. William O. Shropshire, aged 73, died suddenly Thursday afternoon from an attack of acute indigestion. Shropshire was a prominent farmer living near Leesburg, Fin Harrison, and was one of eight brothers. Only two survive, Walter and James. There are also surviving his wife, nee Miss Maggie Cunningham, of Clintonville; one daughter, Mrs. Anabel Wallace; and four sons, Al, Walter and Clay, of near Georgetown, and Isaac, of Cynthiana.

The funeral was held Saturday at ten o'clock at the residence, and the burial in Georgetown cemetery.

—Henry S. Word, United States Commissioner, died yesterday in Mt. Sterling of double pneumonia, after five days' illness. He was 37 years old and the youngest son of Pension Agent A. T. Word. He was formerly assistant postmaster at Mt. Sterling. A wife and one son survive. He was popular in Republican politics and a young attorney of promise. The funeral services will be held in Mt. Sterling this afternoon at two o'clock.

Fire, wind and lightning insurance. Thomas & Woodford

Edward O'Connor's Will Probat-

ed. The will of the late Edward O'Connor was probated Friday in the county court. The testator, after providing for the payment of his funeral expenses and all just debts, leaves to his brother, William O'Connor, $100. The remainder of his estate, consisting of property in Paris and a small farm on the Bethlehem pike, is left to his two children, Mrs. Blanton Holt of Lexington, and Mr. John P. O'Connor, of El Paso, Texas. The latter is named as executor of the estate without bond. The will is dated May 25, 1907, and is witnessed by Mr. William Grannan and Judge Russell Mann.

P. H. S. Defeats Cynthiana.

The Paris High School football eleven took the eleven from Cynthiana High School into camp Friday afternoon by a score of 23 to 6. The features of the game was the work of Rassenfoss, Paris' quarterback. Rassenfoss made four touchdowns during the game but only three were allowed him as one of the officials claimed he stepped out of bounds about three feet before crossing the goal.

Great work was also done by Barbee, Lisle and McIntyre for the high school, Barbee making several long runs, while Lisle broke through Cynthiana's line and broke up punts and got men before the interference could form. McIntyre broke up a forward pass got the ball and made a touchdown.

Paris made four touchdowns and a safety totaling 23 points. Cynthiana made one touchdown and kicked goal and gained six points. Referees, Lucas of Paris, and Prof. Hendricks of Cynthiana; umpires, Field and Lail.

THEATRICAL.

—"The Fighting Parson," which comes to the Paris Grand on next Saturday night, has been creating quite a sensation since the opening of that attraction in Chicago. W. F. Mann, the producer, has certainly found a big winner, both from an artistic and a financial point of view.

"The Fighting Parson" is what the critics term a real city show because it has been tried and found to ring true. It's a play that appeals to all classes of people without offending any. You cry, you laugh and say to your neighbor, "Wasn't it a delightful performance." It has not met with a reverse criticism since its first presentation in Chicago. The Parson which is of course the leading role, is one that immediately touches the heart of the audience and his appearance is always a signal for applause. This character, supported by a company of clever artists and the scenic portion blending harmoniously with the strong cast, makes it one big attraction to be looked forward to.

At the Paris Grand on Saturday, November 19. Seats on sale at Mitchell & Blakemore's. Prices 35, 50 and 75 cents.

—The Comet theatre is daily attracting nice audiences and patrons of the place are thoroughly satisfied with the excellent moving pictures and illustrated songs offered. Today will be given two new motion pictures, "An Unselfish Love," a story of Western Canada, and "The Old Swimming Hole," a clever comedy picture. Miss Mabel Carroll who has been delighting the audiences with her singing will have a new song, "I Want Somebody to Play With Me." Miss Carroll in the illustrated song and Prof. Weaver, who furnishes the piano music are great additions and furnish fine entertainment to the patrons of the theatre.

Georgetown is Swept by Fire.

Fire which broke out about two o'clock yesterday morning in Georgetown and raged for several hours, did damage estimated at $25,000 and several buildings were destroyed. The fire originated in Simpson & Tanner's livery stable and was in full blaze when discovered. Twenty-nine horses perished in the stable.

A machine shop of G. W. Gaines was next in the path of the flames and a building owned by the Garth Educational Fund of Bourbon county, was gutted. The Southern Hotel was badly damaged. L. L. Roberts & Co., of Lexington, and James Bros., who occupied the building owned by the Garth Fund were heavy losers.

During the progress of the fire when everything in that section of the city seemed doomed to destruction, Paris was called on for assistance. The message was received by the local department and preparations were being made to take the engine and several hundred feet of hose to the scene, when information was received from the office of the L. & N., that in view of there being no dispatcher at Georgetown and no account could be made of a train on the F. & C. line the company would not hazard life and property in an effort to transport the local department. Lexington was also appealed to but failed to respond.

The Beauty of Cleopatra

Is not the heritage of every woman. Neither do we promise to make you as pretty as that wonderfully beautiful Egyptian. But we can add charm and a velvety softness to your skin by our massage treatment. It is impossible for us to supply what nature has not. But if you want a peachy, perfect complexion, you'll start the right way by letting us massage your face with massage creams, the purity of which we are ready to vouch for. It is nature's best aid in restoring healthy skin. You can rub and rub the face with soap and still not get it perfectly clean. The massage way is the only way.
